ÉÍÍÍ

Path and Dependent Origination. Uses traditional Shakyamuni Buddha image as object of worship but has no Sangha. It is a lay Buddhist organisation headed by President Niwano.

NIPPONZAN MYOHO JI
Founder:- Nichidatsu Fujii also known as Fujii - Guruji

Nichiren Sect
Based on the Lotus Sutra and the teachings of Mahatma Ghandi
Noted for its radical pacifism - Monks have walked across the United States at least three times chanting the Daimoku.
Monks strictly celibate and consider machinery of any kind decadent and to be avoided. Fujii Guruji worked for the revival of Buddhism in India and Nepal since the end of WWII
Builds peace pagodas in many countries - one in London
Prominent for beating their drums and chanting the Daimoku at peace rallies throughout the world

WON BUDDHISM
Founded by Chung-bin Park also known as Soteasan - Korea's answer to Nichiren

Its Motto:- As material civilization develops, cultivate spiritual civilization accordingly. Born in 1891 he attained Enlightenment in 1916 after twenty years of struggle. Object of worship is the Ill-Won-sang or perfect circle which represents the Dharmakaya Buddha. No Buddha statues. Doctrine based on Three Principles - Cultivation of spiritual stability, study of Facts and Principles, Selection of Right Conduct as well as cultivation of the four graces of Heaven and earth, Parents, Brethren and the Law. Also emphasises the practice of Son - meditation at all times. Aims to build towards United Religions (U.R) and is active in many international bodies such as the W.F.B., W.C.R.P. and Asian Conference on Religion and Peace.

SANTI ASOKE
Founder:- Rak Rakpong, a former television personality, known as Phra Potirak Puritanical Buddhism - No Buddha images - ordains women eats only food offered in bowl (Pindapat) Ran foul of ecclesiastical authorities in Thailand by condemning the Sangha Council for its luxuries,practises of occultism and amulets

DHAMMAKAYA FOUNDATION

Movement within Thailand to enlist students and educated people to train as Buddhist monks. Reputedly, supported by Thai military, hence an intensely nationalistic movement with military like discipline. Meditation technique unorthodox - uses combination of visualisation - crystal ball - and recitation of the mantra "Samma Araham".

Uses modern techniques for propagation such as television, computers etc.

CHING HAI

Ching Hai was born in Vietnam. She was brought up as a Catholic but learnt the basics of Buddhism from her grandmother. At age eighteen, went to England to study. She later went to France and Germany where she worked for the Red Cross. She married a Doctor whom she met in Germany. After studying with various meditation teachers. She felt that she would have to pursue a spiritual path herself. She claims to have received transmission from a Himalayan Master and as a result claims to have attained enlightenment. She became a Buddhist nun following this enlightenment. Her teaching is a mixture of Christianity, Hinduism and elements of Buddhism. Her followers, referred to as Messengers of Kwan Yin, believe that by chanting her name that immediate enlightenment will be attained. She promotes strict vegetarianism and is a great admirer of Imelda Marcos who she feels was persecuted by the Aquino regime.

YENG SHI TANG

Founder:- Vajra Master Lu Shen-yen

Teaches a form of Tantric Buddhism and claims to be the living Buddha. Entices followers by promising success in business and riches in this world.

FRIENDS OF THE WESTERN BUDDHIST ORDER

Founded by an English monk, Ven.Sangharakshita in 1967

A form of Buddhism without cultural accretions especially designed to appeal to Westerners. It draws from all Buddhist traditions but attempts to place itself firmly within the European cultural tradition, without throwing out the essential teachings of the Buddha.

The order does not have monks or nuns as these are considered inappropriate in a Western setting. However there is a form of ordination which is carried out by Sangharakshita himself or by a senior member of the order. On ordination the initiate is given an order name which is usually derived from the Sanskrit or Pali language. At meetings or ceremonies these order members wear a Kesa, a strip of brocade emblazoned with the three jewel symbol which is the symbol of the F.W.B.O.. A white Kesa being for a non-celibate member and a gold one for celibate ones. Most order members live in residential communities. Before entering the order, a person may become a Mitra or friend. This is someone who is committed to the Movement and intends to remain involved in the foreseeable future.

The Order has become well known for its active support of the Ambedkar movement in India. Dr.Ambedkar, an "Untouchable" or now known as scheduled caste established Buddhist missionary work among the scheduled castes to introduce them to Buddhism. Some, including the Order, consider this a successful missionary activity which enables these people to gain social mobility by lifting them from the 'caste' system. Many critics are doubtful if these people really have a true commitment to Buddhism and suggest that they are really still Hindus at heart but embrace Buddhism outwardly for purely economic reasons How can one know their true motivation?

A SHORT HISTORICAL OUTLINE OF THE BON RELIGION

THE ORIGIN OF BON part 1 (Olmo Lungring)

The Bonpo's maintain that Bon originated in the land of Olmo Lungring ('Ol-mo-lung-ring), a part of a larger country called Tazig (rTag-gzigs). 'Ol symbolizes the unborn; Mo, the undiminishing; Lung, the prophetic words of Tonpa Shenrab (sTon-pa gShen-rab) the founder of Bon; and Ring, his everlasting compassion.

Olmo Lungring constitutes one-third of the existing world and is situated to the west of Tibet. It is described as an eight-petalled lotus under a sky which appears like an eight spoked wheel. In the center rises Mount Yungdrung Gutseg (gYung-drung dgu-brtsegs), "Pyramid of the Nine Swastikas". The swastika is the symbol of permanence and indestructability. The nine swastikas collectively represent the Nine ways of Bon. At the base of Mount Yungdrung spring four rivers, flowing towards the four cardinal directions. The mountain is surrounded by temples, cities and parks. To the south is the palace Barpo Sogye (Bar-po so-brgyad) where Tonpa Shenrab was born. To the west and north are palaces in which lived the wives and children of Tonpa Shenrab. A temple named Shampo Lhatse (sham-po lha-rtse) is to the east. The complex of places, rivers and parks with Mount Yungdrung in the center constitutes the inner region (Nang-gling) of Olmo Lungring. The intermediate region (Bar-gling) consists of twelve cities, four of which are towards the cardinal directions. The third region includes the outer land (mTha'-gling).

These three regions are encircled by an ocean and again by a range of snowy mountains. The access to Olmo Lungring is gained by the so-called "arrow way" (mDa'-lam). Before his visit to Tibet Tonpa Shenrab shot an arrow thus creating a passage through the mountain range.

This very sophisticated description of Olmo Lungring has been tentatively related by some scholars to different geographical locations. Some see it as a description of Mount Kailash (Mt. Ti-se) and the four great rivers that spring from its base; China being the land to the east, India to the south, Orgyan to the west and Khotan to the north. The description of the universe with Mount Meru supporting the sky and the four chief continents to the four cardinal points and this earth as the southern continent (Jambudvipa) is another similar example. (to be continued)

222222222

There are three biographies of Tonpa Shenrab. The earliest and shortest one is known as Dodu (mDo-'dus): "Epitome of Aphorism". The second which is in two volumes is called Zermik (gZer-mig): "Piercing Eye". These two accounts date from the 10th and 11th centuries respectively. The third and largest is in twelve volumes and is known as Zhiji (gZhi-brjid): "The Glorious". It belongs to the category of scriptures known as "spiritual transmission" (bsNyan-rgyud). It is believed to have been dictated to Londen Nyingpo (bLo-ldan snying-po) who lived in the fourteenth century.

THE FOUNDER AND HIS TEACHINGS:
PART THREE

The doctrines which were taught by Lord Shenrab and recorded in these three accounts are divided into two systems. One classification is called Gozhi Dzonga (sGo-bzhi mdzod-lnga): "The Four Portals and the Treasury as Fifth". These are:

1) Chabkar (Chab-dkar): White Waters; it contains the esoteric or higher tantric practices.

2) Chabnag (Chab-nag): Black Waters; includes narratives and various rites, magic and ordinary.

3) Phanyul ('Phan-yul): The Land of Phan: explains the monastic rules and gives exposition of philosophical concepts.

4) Ponse (dPon-yul): The Lordly Guide; it contains the Great Perfection practices (rDzogs-chen).

5) Thothog (mTho-thog): The Treasury; it comprises the essential aspects of all the Four Portals.

The second classification is called Thegpa Rimgu'i Bon (Theg-pa-rim-dgu'i Bon), "The Bon of the Nine Successive Stages [or simply] 'The Nine Ways of Bon'". The first four are the cause (rGyud-kyi theg-pa) the next four are the ways of result ('Bras-bu'i theg-pa) and the ninth is the Great Perfection (rDzogs-chen). Examined individually their subject matters are as follows:

1) The Way of the Shen of Prediction: Mo (prediction), rTsis (astrology) gTo (ritual) and dPhyad (examination of causes).
2) The way of the Shen of the Visual World: nature and origin of entities.
3) The Way of the Shen of Illusion: For disposing of adverse powers.
4) The Way of the Shen of Existence: Bardo and guiding one through death.
5) The Way of the Virtuous Followers: Guides those who follow this path.
6) The Way of the Monkhood: Rules of monastic discipline.
7) The Way of Pure Sound: Higher tantric practice, ritual and mandala.
8) The Way of the Primeval Shen: Matters of practice and behaviour.
9) The Supreme Way: Attainment of rDzogs-chen, the Great Perfection.

NOTES: Poems written during a sesshin April 24 to May 1, l992

Breathing in the cosmos, breathing out the self.

Mist lies on the grass and behind the stage-flat trees.

Mist comes out of the mouth in a fierce cold of dawn.

I have an image of my body, transparent, and through it, the slopes of the mountain. During zazen, an image of Bodhidharma lying on his side, two black dots of eyes.I go home and fill in the other black dot eye on the Bodhidharma from Kyoto.

In the black night, an owl calls, who-oo?

In the bright sun, a cow tells, Mu-u.

Riding the clouds - I am Monkey on a pink cloud.

Hundreds of neat cobwebs hold the sun in dewdrops.

A leaf hangs by a thread of web from a grass-flower

An ant rides the valleys and mountains of my meal cloth.

Chop off the top of the pineapple.

Chop off the mind road.

Zip zip tent skin inner outer.

The turning point of the breath,

where we lose the way.

Avalokiteshvara, Manjusri, Lochana, Vairochana,

Salivating with the juices of names.

Kanzeon na mu butsu

I am I am I am

Kanzeon na mu butsu.

In a dream I am going down a corridor beating a drum

calling I am I am I am

I hear Akira call

I am

Grasshoppers visit, sleek and taut on the silver of the tent fly, then leap off

like butterflies with yellow parachutes.

The trickle of the water into iron buckets,

the smell of wood smoke.

Words slice the silence:

Don't know! don't know! don't know!

Cut the black grape close to its centre,

Extract each seed by knife-point.

See the cushion of grape-flesh that beds the seeds.

Notice the young grape seeds with red tips.

Now I am with this grape.

Now I am with this seed.

Grooves of the planks on soles,

lines lengthwise, and then across the feet,

as we turn the corner of the verandah.

The last sun on each bodhisattva's head in the kinhin line.

A white mushroom on the altar,

A parasol for Buddha.

Black bracken.

Consider the nature of life and death.

Inspiration, expiration.

Green mountains walking.

Stone woman gives birth to a child by night.

Spagnum moss in a crib of gum bark.

Form is emptiness, emptiness form.

Aussie Zen:

Metal on metal, the sound a

Summons for ocker tea,

Ginger-nuts t'dunk.

Buddha sits under eucalypt leaves,

Grass seeds on the zabuton.

In the river

A tiny perfect construction

A water-wheel,

Turning, turning

With the current.

Child-parent play.

During teisho

Under the chestnut tree,

A butterfly pauses

Wings gassho together,

Orange with black spines,

White dots,

And flutters off.

Stars arc and spill their one-pointed clarity

over our night cradle

To signal the start of dokusanA figure flies

Grey robe wingsIn the early morn mist

Across the grass.

On hands and knees to examine the mouse scats behind the cereal tubs.

Fully taste this!

The dog is dying.

Be with this!
